Yorabode

She was unable to find home products that felt evocative of this province, so Emily Campbell decided to try her hand at making. With some foraged spruce needles and essential oils, she crafted some scents from scratch. Emily attended her first market in 2017, where she sold (just) enough to pay for her table. A year later, she left her job as an architect and jumped in with both feet. Now a small team, Yorabode operates out of a studio space in downtown St. John's, Newfoundland and Labrador, where they craft home goods that you've probably never smelled the likes of, except in the woods.

Shimmering Seas came about from my love of coastal scenes and colours. My creations are derived from my ocean-themed thought process. From charcuterie boards to trinket dishes, each designer piece is created using resin, glitter and embellishments. Engen Books Ltd.

Engen Books is an independent publishing company based out of Newfoundland, Canada. It was started in 2007 by Matthew LeDrew and is currently run by a board consisting of LeDrew, Ellen Curtis, Erin Vance, Ali House, and Brad Dunne.

Our mission is to promote literary expression and the medium of literature, regardless of genre, setting, or style. entwined.

Modern knitwear with a colourful personality. Patricia grew up with people knitting all around her. Her mother and grandmother had been knitting for as long as she can remember. She never really understood how they could love doing something so much until she gave it a try herself.

Patricia has been knitting for about five years and it's since become a passion, an obsession, a stress reliever and a joy to do. She loves to create unique, one-of-a-kind items (her favourite yarn to use is Merino wool) and feels that everyone should have their own special piece of something creative.

Ennis Designs

Our mothers and grandmothers used cloth that could be turned no more — to warm toes by the bedside, clean boots on the porch, and pretty up the parlour. Today we use recycled fabrics and yarns to tell their stories and many of our own. Living by Newfoundland's coastline is a gift. The rugged cliffs, pounding seas, quiet beaches, and lapping waves give a sense of peace and oneness with nature. The changing moods and colours of the sea, the sky and the bountiful array of flora and fauna from shorelines to hills and valleys are a never-ending source of inspiration for our traditional hooked rugs.

JR Collectives

My name is Johnny Rose and I'm the artist and creative force behind JR Collectives. I've loved creating ever since I can remember and have been drawn to photography and photo art, though I've always been open to trying new things to better express my creativity. Today, my art journey has led me to create one-of-a-kind art pieces often using photography as a base for each. I often use reclaimed and refinished objects to frame my work, with windows from heritage homes being a big favourite! Along with creating art pieces, I also work with clients via photo sessions. I'd love to work with you!

I am Ramandeep Kaur, a mandala artist. A mandala is a geometric design or pattern that's about finding peace in the symmetry of the design and in the universe. I use dotting tools for making my designs, including a piece inspired by the rainbow (which beautifully appears after heavy rain and dark clouds, and acts as a reminder of how to persevere through the difficulties of life). My mandalas come in a range of designs and colours including berry and lavender.
